Hi Jose, Sorry to hear you have a cold. It is very common when you travel.

Hope you get better and look forward to catching up.

Ali

Hello Ali,

I hope you are well. I apologise for not being in touch.

I got back Friday evening, and I have been crazily busy during these dates. Also, I got a cold last night, so I hope to get better soon, since next week I have a crucial meeting in Barcelona.

If I feel much better later on, I will book for tomorrow, but I don't know yet.

I will keep you posted,

Best,

Jose

Hi Jose.

Are you back? How did it go? Book a session and let's push forward with our progress. Long lapses are not productive.

Regards

Ali

Hello Ali,

I'm sorry for not getting in touch with you. It was chaotic last week with meetings and travel at the last minute.

I've included the link for the two PowerPoint presentations I have for Codikett, the digital side of the business. I want to work with you to make an excellent presential presentation, and I think that should work as well online.

I'm going to try to record a video discussing this presentation to give you an overview of how I approach it and start from there.

Thanks for your support and help,

Best regards

Jose
